

YASI HOFER

YASI HOFER

Yasmin Ines Hofer, born October 25th 1992, Ulm Germany

A Life for Guitar

Discovered by Steve Vai, Yasi Hofer had her first stage appearance at the young age of 14.

One year later she started studying music at the „Musikhochschule Stuttgart“. After just 3 terms there, she achieved a scholarship for the world famous Berklee College of Music in Boston, USA, where she continued her studies.

Back in Germany she released her self-composed and produced Debut Album „Yasi“. Music magazines quoted this CD as a fantastic work of art. Some of them even titled her as „best female guitar player“.

This is confirmed by her world wide web presence with more than 5 Million Clicks on YouTube and more than 20.000 Fans on Facebook.

Even though the guitar being the main element in her music, Yasi also amazes with her beautiful warm voice.

Her songs, instrumental or with vocals, are not only catchy and stirring but also virtuosic and soulful.

Agreeing to that, famous artists like Steve Vai, Savoy Brown, UFO, Chris Thompson, Hellmut Hattler and even Neil Young shared the stage with her.

a very special and unique event!

Reviews

Debut Album „Yasi“:

- Gitarre & Bass - successful and unpredictable compositions; Yasi is a great musician; her guitar playing is not only technically convincing it's also absolut self-contained.
- Eclipsed - she plays catchy Fusion-Rock with beautiful melodies; one can be curious about her further development
- Rocktimes - her debut album is a creation for gourmets; brilliant musical understanding; first class song- arrangements and outstanding guitar licks
- GoodTimes - Greats as Hellmut Hattler (Kraan, TabTwo) and Philip Bynoe (Steve Vai) as musicians on the CD show her already established position; a remarkable Debut.
- Guitar - virtuous played guitar, a lot of taste, and great musicians; this debut makes appetite for more.
